

Liberty ARC Observes National Corporate Compliance & Ethics Week

In observance of National Corporate Compliance and Ethics Week, Liberty ARC would like to introduce its top-notch corporate compliance staff:

Sarah Quist is our corporate compliance officer; she oversees all corporate compliance for the agency. Sarah has been with Liberty ARC for three and a half years, and has been our corporate compliance officer for two and a half years now.

The Corporate Compliance Department has two sides, which work on a multitude of functions within the agency.

Incident Management-

We have two staff members who investigate and manage all incidents within the agency with our individuals, including the Justice Center and OPWDD. Wendy Moore, who has worked for Liberty ARC for 23 years and the last nine months as an investigator, and Brian Lutz, who has been with the agency for more than two years as an investigator.

Audit Coordination-

We have two staff members who follow an audit schedule to complete audits of all programs and sites within Liberty ARC on a yearly basis. Karen Blake, who has been with the agency for 15 years and just over five years as an auditor, and Jessica Murray, who's just started with the agency and will be joining the auditing coordination team this week.

Our Corporate Compliance office operates as a support department; their role is to assist in ensuring that the entire agency follows the laws and regulations the government passes. Although the corporate compliance department does not make the policies the agency has in effect, it is the function of the department to ensure that the policies are carried out and complied with.
